

The Roads of Ronda

The Roads of Ronda is a moderate difficulty excursion taking place on Sunday November 12th. It is part of our continuing preparation towards level two, which we expect to reach by Christmas. The 16 km route which includes 500 meters of ascent, will take approximately 5 hours. Afterwards, we'll go onto eat in the city of Ronda and visit the gorge area by the river Gua Dalevin under the new bridge. We will return by bus leaving Ronda at 19.00 hours.

Puente Nuevo de Ronda

Ronda is an ancient city located in the province of Malaga, which is both beautiful and historic. It has been a city of bandits and bullfighters, and inhabited in its time by Romans, Visigoths and Muslims due to its strategic position, dominating the gateway to Lower Andalusia. There are well preserved traces of its rich and varied history.

Ronda Ciudad Milenaria

It's going to be a long day, with the bus pick ups in Seville at 07.00 in the Grand Plaza, 07.15 in José Laguillo (opposite the hotel Catalonia Santa Justa) and 07.30 a.m. in Brewery Ronda El Alamillo. If you are coming by car, meet at 10.30 in the Calle San Acacio, located in San Francisco Ronda. The GPS coordinates are 36.731567,-5.164451, with a picture shown below.

Between Tajo del Abanaico and Cueva de los Aviones we travel along a medieval paved road running parallel to the stream of the Arroyo de los Chopillos. It is an area of great beauty and ideal for photography. The gorge's vast shape and size has been caused over millenia by the movement of water.

From there, we will have about 4 km of climbs and descents to reach the city of Ronda, certainly no later than 15.30 ready for our meal, followed by our visit to the gorge.
